JOHN TEMPLE GRAVES PROVES DRAWING CARD

The chautauqua season closed auspiciously Saturday night with a delightful program by the Montague Light Opera Co. In the afternoon, a masterly lecture, "Armageddon," by Hon. John Temple Graves was delivered before a crowd which tested the capacity of the tent.

Col. Graves was formerly editor of the Atlanta Constitution for a number of years, has been editor of the New York World, with a daily audience of fifteen million people. He has lost none of his vigor and intensity with the passing years and his rare eloquence thrilled his audience as effectively as he was wont to do in years ago, when he was accounted the foremost orator of the south.

His lecture dealt with plain unvarnished truths of the present situation related with such telling emphasis as to hold his hearers spellbound under the sway of his eloquence. Forceful, impelling and profoundly impressive, his oratorical powers were heard at his best and each shaft of caution, advice and prophecy went as straight to the mark, as the arrow to the target.

Col. Graves did not hesitate to criticize both capital and labor for their manifest selfishness in their attitude towards deflation. He took the position that the battle of Armageddon is now being fought out between the forces of good and evil.

Mr. Graves began his address with a eulogy on the attributes of God, Justice and Mercy. He said that we too often lose sight of the fact that he is a God of justice as well as mercy. God could have stayed the hand of war. He has power over the elements as shown when he stilled the waters and fed the multitudes with the loaves and fishes. However, as a God of justice he allows wars and pestilence to come upon us, as a punishment for our sins. He told of the sins of America, Germany, France, England and Belgium. How they had departed from God. Germany had been the seat of higher education and Christianity in the time of the reformation, under the leadership of Luther; but they had forgotten God and worshipped Mars, the God of war. France had become atheistic and worshipped pleasure. England had commercialized and had oppressed its colonies; Belgium had enslaved the Congo and maimed and murdered its defenseless people when they failed to gather the amount of rubber its traders demanded. The war was their punishment.

He urged that all our people should take an earnest interest in our government and see to it that the right men are elected to office and that our laws are in harmony with the laws of God. He paid a glowing tribute to President Wilson and the high standards upon which he entered the war. He also spoke in the highest terms of Harding, who, though a republican, is our president now. He urged respect of our government and said that we should stand by the administration in all its different activities.

He brought a message to the people of Texas, from President Harding, whose close friend he is and whom he bade good-bye just before starting on his trip through the south. This message of the President was one of encouragement to the southern people, in their support of the chautauqua program as one of the most potent means of spreading the gospel of true Americanism.

TEXAS COMPANY MAKE SOME BIG IMPROVEMENTS

MARKED IMPROVEMENTS COMPLETED AT DISTRIBUTING STATION IN CAMERON.

The Texas Oil company, which is represented locally by Mr. John Brock, has just completed some marked improvement in its distributing station on the S. A. & A. P. tracks in the western part of the city.

This work was made possible through the kindness of Mr. S. F. Monroe, the superintendent of the Texas Division at Houston and the equipment installed by Messrs. Otto Reinshagen and Carl Daab, construction men, who did remarkably well in pushing the work to completion.

Commodious warehouse has been built, which has a capacity sufficient to take care of large quantities of lubricating oils and greases. A new storage tank has been added to the former equipment for the handling of light oils. This tank has a capacity of about 20,000 gallons, making a total capacity for gasoline and kerosene of between 35,000 and 40,000 gallons and insures Mr. Brock's customers that they will not suffer on account of a local shortage in "Texaco" gasoline.

Gasoline and kerosene was formerly pumped from the tank cars to storage tanks by means of a hand pump but Mr. Brock, realizing that this method was getting to be too slow for his increasing business, has installed a gasoline engine to do the pumping.

Mr. Brock is to be congratulated on securing these improvements since they not only increase the capacity and efficiency of his station but add much to the civic attractiveness of the site. He invites the public to call at this place and see just how "Texaco" products are handled on a large scale.

JAIL RUTH ON SPEED CHARGE.

New York, June 8.—Babe Ruth, home run king of the New York Americans today was sentenced to one day in the city prison and fined $100 in magistrate's court for automobile speeding.

It was Ruth's second appearance in court here within the last few weeks on charges of speeding.

Babe lost some of his famous sunny disposition when he heard Magistrate House pronounce the jail sentence. He had come to court prepared to pay a heavy fine.

Officially his day in jail ends at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Asked if he expected to play today against Cleveland, the worried ball player replied:

"How can I?"

Then after reflecting for a moment he brightened up and said:

"Well I may play half of the game."

The Wilson Will Case Postponed From June 27th to July 11th

Owing to previous engagements of some of the attorneys the case of H. C. Ledbetter vs. Jeff T. Kemp, involving the contest of the probate of the will of Mrs. Lizzie B. Wilson, deceased, was postponed from June 27th to July 11th. Criminal cases which were set for the latter date have been reset for the former. The Wilson will case attracted a great deal of attention when H. C. Ledbetter, a brother of the deceased, brought a contest of the will in County Court in February. Mrs. Wilson was one of the most wealthy women in Milam county and was well known throughout this section of the state. An array of able counsel has been employed by both sides for the trial in District Court. Henderson, Kidd and Henderson, named in the will as attorneys for the estate, are offering the will for probate. Messrs. O. L. Stripling and S. W. Clayton of Waco represent the contestant, H. C. Ledbet-

DEEP OIL TEST SLOWING DOWN

BOULDER FORMATION AND OTHER MINOR MATTERS GIVE DRILLERS TROUBLE

Work on the Bremond Ranch Syndicate deep oil test, three miles southeast of the city is going forward slowly. Drilling through the boulder formation at the 1200 foot level is giving driller, Frank Bartlett, considerable trouble. This, coupled with the delays in receiving fuel oil, changing bits which are easily damaged in the boulder formation, and other small repairs, all taking considerable time in themselves, has slowed the work down to the point of practically no progress over the past week.

Some excitement prevailed on the streets last week upon the arrival of Paul Carpenter, one of the Minneapolis capitalists who are backing the deep test here, as it was thought by many he was here to make an examination of a "find" and would ascertain whether the well would be stopped where it is or continued to the 3000 foot level in the hopes of something better.

The excitement was in vain, however, as Mr. Carpenter is on one of his inspection trips to Nevada and California where he and his associates have other interests and just stopped off in Thorndale to spend a few days with Ralph Babcock who is in charge of operations here, and with Messrs. Bartlett and Culver, all of whom are interested in the company here.—Thorndale Chapin.

FORD PRODUCTS TAKE ANOTHER DROP IN PRICE

FORD TOURING CARS AND ROADSTERS DELINED $25; COUPES, SEDANS AND TRACTORS $50

A telegram from the Ford factory to Messrs. Chambers-Hefley Tuesday stating that the price on Ford roadsters and Ford touring cars had declined $25.00 and Coupes and Tractors $50.00.

With the big decline in Ford cars several months ago and the additional decline—the level in price seems to be the aim of the Ford people. The demand for Ford cars are far more than the output. Mr. Caldwell at Chambers-Hefley Motor Co., stated this morning: "If you want a car now you will have to wait, it will take from two to three months to fill your order."

ROGERS DEFEATS CALDWELL IN A BRILLIANT GAME

CALDWELL BEATEN IN EXCITING 12-INNING GAME ON LOCAL DIAMOND.

(By W. B. SKELTON)

The first game of ball was played on Cameron's new field Wednesday afternoon, when Caldwell and Rogers met here in one of the most exciting games in years. The teams were well matched and it was evident from the beginning that a good game was in store for the 1500 enthusiastic fans who came from far and near to witness the game.

The features of the game were the pitching of Hagler, the elongated twirler from Rogers, who showed rare form in the pinches, striking out 17 men during the game and retiring the Caldwell batters on strike-outs in both the 7th and 9th innings, and the remarkable fielding of Rankin, center-fielder for Caldwell, who brought the fans to their feet time and again with excellent catches of long drives. Easley, of Caldwell also pitched good ball but allowed his opponents to bunch hits when they meant runs. Caldwell started the scoring in the second, scored twice more in the third and Rogers scored one in the third. It looked like Caldwell's game until the 8th, when Rogers tied the score. It was then anybody's game until the last half of the 12th, when Dockery of Rogers made a long hit to left field, scoring Dillard and breaking up a good game. The score by innings:

First Inning.
Caldwell—Brewer, hit by pitched ball, takes first. Brewer out stealing second, Traylor to West. Wautipka flew out to center. Neighbors fanned. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Rogers—West out, Wautipka to Brewer. Traylor flew out to left. Vernon hit safely to left. Dillard flew out to Wamble. No runs, one hit no errors.

Second Inning.
Caldwell—Rankin hit a crashing three-bagger to left and allowed to

LIGNITE DEAL FOR A MILLION AT ROCKDALE

SALE OF VALUABLE HOLDINGS CLOSED AFTER LONG NEGOTIATIONS

After more than a year's negotiations, the sale of the Rockdale Coal Company, the International Coal and Brick Company of Rockdale and the Santa Fe Coal Company of Milano to the recently organized Empire Fuel Company of Dallas, was announced in Dallas, May 31. The new corporation is capitalized at $1,000,000 and will have its headquarters in Dallas.

All financial transactions were accomplished through the Dallas Guaranty Mortgage Company, of which Adam H. Davidson, who represents a group of New York capitalists, is the president. Mr. Davidson, in announcing the completion of the huge transaction, said that M. R. Summers of Rockdale, Texas, representing the selling companies, had been working for over a year securing the best sections of the immense lignite fields.

The five large mines taken over by the Empire Fuel Company have an estimated output of more than 300,000 tons of lignite per year and Mr. Davidson declared that contracts for the entire output for next year already had been negotiated. Boyd Hammond of New York has been aiding Mr. Davidson in arranging the sale of the various properties.

The officers of the new Dallas corporation are Paul S. Miller, Dallas, president; A. H. Winston, Dallas, Vice President; M. R. Summers, Rockdale, Vice President; Roy R. McKee, Dallas, secretary, and Adam H. Davidson, Treasurer.—Temple Mirror.

ONE FOOT ON THE GROUND.

Euthusiasm is fine. So is idealism. So is optimism. So is faith. So is vision. So are a whole lot of other things. But always keep one foot on the ground, says Forbes Magazine. Too many of us are given to flying to extremes. We lack ballast. We often let our dreams run away with us. We lose all sense of perspective and proportion. When things are going well with us we conclude that they will always continue to do so, and we accordingly neglect to provide safeguards against reversal of fortune. The business concerns which are in dire straits today are those that over-shot the mark most during the boom. They failed to look ahead. They reckoned upon prosperity lasting forever. A good many of us do the same thing. After all, plain, ordinary gumption is the greatest asset in the world. Gumption embraces level-headedness, judgment, stability, power to hold on, rational but not blind optimism, reasonable but not unreasonable self-reliance, alertness to the value of looking before you leap, and of counting the cost before you run up a hill. Let us philosophize; yes. But let us not forget that before we can philosophize fruitfully, we must first buckle down to the workaday task of earning a living.

Many interesting correspondents are writing to newspapers about what seem to them faults or signs of undue wear and tear in English as used in the United States. Some writers are greatly concerned because Howells didn't spell as Chaucer did, some because Yankees guess instead of fancy, some because here a clerk isn't a clerk. It is all good practice, and admirable because it reminds some who may not have recalled it of the fact that, like branches on the north and south sides of a tree, the English language on the east and west sides of the Atlantic grows differently. The roots and trunks in both instances remain the same; the twigs do not matter much.

Now that boxing and wrestling have become parts of a regular college curriculum, it will be seen that the state institutions that adopt these new "sciences" will need all of their appropriations granted by their legislatures, and probably more.

BOY LIVES WITH SHOTS IN HEART

YOUTH LEAVES HOSPITAL WITH LEADEN PELLETS IN VITAL ORGANS

New York, June 5.—For the common run of mortals to be shot in the heart means death. But a 12-year-old who is out of the common run walked out of the Patterson, N. J., general hospital this afternoon and went home, a discharged patient, carrying five No. 7 shot in his heart and sixteen or eighteen in his lungs as well. While he was under the X-ray in the hospital the surgeons could plainly see the little leaden balls imbedded in the pectoral muscles and moving back and forth with each beat.

The boy is Lawrence Seterfield of Bloomingdale. He and Tommy Yate-man, 6 years old, a neighbor's boy, were playing with a shotgun on the afternoon of May 1. At one stage of the sport Lawrence stood off thirty feet and Tommy pointed the gun at him. Unexpectedly it went off.

The Seterfield boy received a large part of the contents of the shell, loaded with birdshot, in his breast. The boy was hurried to the hospital. For several days he lay between life and death. Examination, when the surgeons were able to make it, disclosed shot in both lungs—at least sixteen of them. Those which had penetrated only the skin and exterior muscles were extracted. The others, as is often the case when a foreign body is lodged with the human frame, it was thought best to leave for the attention of nature.

Shot are Seen in Heart.

Even the surgeons were astonished when they came to turn the X-ray on the region of the heart. Five of the shot had plunged between the ribs and stopped in the muscles of the heart itself, about four inches between the skin. As the muscles contracted and expanded in pumplike motion, the pellets of lead moved with it. Temporarily, at least, they were doing no harm. They could not be extracted without almost certainly causing death. There was a bare chance that the boy might live as he was.

The surgeons decided to leave the shot alone. For some time the patient's condition continued to be critical. But, after a week or two, he began to mend and continued to get better until he was able to walk about the ward, and finally to go back to his parents. His own feet carried him out of the hospital to an automobile yesterday.

Members of the hospital staff recalled one case in medical history of a man who was discharged from a hospital with a pistol bullet in his heart, but they did not know what became of him afterward. They make no prediction as to the future of Lawrence Seterfield, but have every hope that he will grow up and outline many a man who has no extra burden to carry.

THE DEVIL'S TOWER

THIS peculiar freak of nature which has become one of Uncle Sam's National Monuments, is located near Sundance in northeastern Wyoming. It is a gigantic rock, 600 feet high, probably 60 feet in diameter at the top and a mile around at the base. Rising sheer from the level plain, it is visible in some directions for almost a hundred miles.

Undoubtedly this tower was useful to primitive races as well as to early pioneers as a landmark. 'Tis thought that during the subsequent Indian wars members of the Sioux and Crow tribes directed their marches by the aid of fires and other signals flashed from this ever-visible tower.

As one approaches this monstrous rock, his amazement and awe increases, because it seems incredible that any force of Nature could have carved this solitary monument.

To climb to the top would seem an impossibility, yet it is said that a number of years ago a man and a woman accomplished this feat successfully.

Now that the war is behind us and Uncle Sam has more time to devote to home matters, it seems not unlikely that he may deem it advisable to send an expedition to the top of his new possession and cause a series of stairways to be constructed for the accommodation and convenience of venturesome tourists bent on getting acquainted with their own country.

Governor Neff To Pardon Three Negro Convicts June Nineteenth

CASES PERSONALLY INVESTIGATED ON VISIT TO STATE FARMS.

Austin, Texas, June 7.—Governor Neff announced late Tuesday that he will grant on June 19 pardons to three negro convicts, as a result of his visit to the State farms. One of these convicts has been in prison for 17 years. The governor said he had personally investigated these cases.

During his administration, the governor said he has granted three furloughs and cancelled seven. One of these was furloughed for 10 days and is now back in prison, another is now serving as a servant at the governor's mansion, and the third is temporarily with former Prison Commissioner Sam D. D. Low.

There are now 140 convicts out on parole, many of them being lifetimers, the governor stated, and he proposes within a few days, to cancel more than one-half of these. The governor added that he will now devote his attention to white convicts and grant pardons to those he finds to be worthy of executive clemency.

WIFE OF OIL FIELD WORKER TELLS SHERIFF SHE SHOT TO PROTECT HERSELF.

Albany, Texas, June 7.—Sheriff W. M. Biggs, who responded to a call from the home of Fritz Patzolt in the western part of town about six this afternoon, found the body of Parker Stretch lying on the floor in the front room of the home. Nine bullet holes were in Stretch's body, either of which, it is said, would have killed him.

Mrs. Patzolt told Sheriff Briggs that she shot Stretch to protect herself "from his assaults."

Patzolt is an oil worker and is now employed in the Breckenridge field. The couple have two children.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Sir Walter Raleigh Had A Bright Idea

YOU remember the episode of the rainy day when he threw his cloak into a puddle that the good queen might cross without getting wet feet and perhaps the flu. That was advertising. Sir Walter had a message of import to her majesty. He wanted a hearing. He got it—by a courteous and ingenious method of attracting favorable attention. It was another case of advertising that paid both ways.

Business today is metaphorically throwing its cloak before you. It seeks your favorable attention. It uses its most effective method of capturing—advertising. Day after day it caters to your tastes, and your desires through advertising.

The men who advertise in this paper believe that if they succeed in getting their messages across to you, you will often be interested and sometimes inspired with a little of their own enthusiasm for their wares.

Advertising will help you. Whether you realize it or not, advertising is a big vital force in your life. Through it, American genius and American manufacturers are putting within your reach the many boons of modern life.

Advertising keeps your information up to date on every article of human need, whether food, clothing, articles of household utility, necessities or luxuries.

Advertisers deserve your support. The queen knighted Sir Walter.

THE "DEVIL'S GARDEN" AT NEW HEFLEY FRIDAY & SATURDAY

William A. Dale, a man of violent temper and uncontrollable passion, employed in a menial capacity on the estate of the Right Honorable Everad Barradine, falls in love with Mavis, an upper servant in the same household. To be near her he obtains a job as groom—struggles to improve his mind and his position to be worthy of her—always worshipping her from afar.

Barradine, returning from a ride, sees Dale fighting with one of the grooms who had been trying to kiss Mavis against her will. He interests himself in Dale and uses his influence to obtain him a position as assistant postmaster. Dale is advanced to postmaster. He marries Mavis, and becomes a power in the community.

In a fit of temper Dale throws an offending soldier out of the postoffice. For this, Dale is suspended and summoned to the general post-office in London and faces impending disgrace.

After Dale starts for London, Mavis goes to see Barradine. He is just starting for London and suggests she visit him there to talk about the matter. Mavis goes to the hotel to which she had been directed by Barradine. There he tells her she still tempts him and he will help her husband on one condition. She consents to his proposal in order to save Dale from disgrace.

Meanwhile Dale waits three days for his case to be tried. Returning from the trial, where things would have gone badly but for Barradine's timely interference, Dale finds Mavis in his rooms, is thoroughly delighted and insists they celebrate.

Mavis' eyes and actions tell him that something has gone wrong. His suspicions aroused, he threatens to kill her unless she reveals the truth. She tells him that for two days she has been with Barradine, and that on another occasion before she was married Barradine had attacked her.

Blind with rage, Dale surprises Barradine riding alone in Abbey Woods. Dale tells Barradine he knows why he has been so kind to him, that his wife has confessed in part and that if Barradine won't tell him all, he will kill him. Barradine remains silent, and the powerful Dale chokes him to death without realizing what he has done. He returns to London, establishes an alibi. No one doubts the theory that Barradine was killed by a fall from his horse.

Haunted by this deed, Dale decides that he and Mavis must begin life anew in a different environment and buys a farm at the edge of Abbey Woods. Memories of the crime cause him to care nothing for his life. He performs deeds of bravery which make him the hero of the countryside, including the rescue of the town's ne'er-do-well from drowning. This man, Abram Veale, has a beautiful daughter, Norah. Dale and Mavis have had two children, and this, in a measure, gives him a new interest in life. Mavis takes Norah into their home and Dale recognizes in this lovely gypsy-like creature the most insidious temptation in his life. He discovers that Norah loves him. After sending her away so that he might fight the battle out by himself, he smells smoke and discovers that the home for orphans, which Barradine has endowed, is on fire.

The lives of little children are in peril and Dale, in his heroic rescue of them, finds the answer to his problem.

VIOLA DANA PLAYS

ENGROSSING ROLE.

Delightful Viola Dana, the effervescent little actress, will soon be seen by local theatre-goers in the stellar role of "The Offshore Pirate," the Metro production which comes to the New Hefley Theatre on Monday for two days as the feature attraction.

In this unusual picture, which was adapted from the story of F. Scott Fitzgerald, as published in The Saturday Evening Post, Miss Dana has a part that brings out all her unusual gift. As Ardita Farnham, the girl who is stolen by a modern piratical young man, she excels her previous efforts.

The story tells of Ardita Farnham, young, rich and beautiful, whose heart has gone to a scheming foreigner who cleverly plots for her rescue he is, but Ardita is adamant and intends to marry him. In despair, they contrive a plan. Toby Moreland, a happy-go-lucky young fellow, boards Ardita's yacht with a handful of cut throats, and seizes the vessel. Out of this a romance springs—but unexpectedly and after thrilling happenings.

"The Offshore Pirate" was adapted for the screen by Waldemar Young, Dallas M. Fitzgerald directed, and the cameraman was John Arnold. The art interiors and effects are by A. F. Mantz.

Supporting Viola Dana is the following excellent cast: Jack Mulhall, as Toby Moreland; Edward Johnson, as Uncle John Farnham, and Edward Cecil as Ivan Nekova, the Russian.

Critics who have already seen the picture, hail it as a powerful romance, standing far out of the ordinary run of pictures. It radiates life from the very outset until the last satisfying touches, and moves as rapidly as the trim little yacht on which most of the novelty and freshness, distinct tributes both to its original author and to Metro.

CAMERA DISCOVERS A RICH NEW WORLD.

Science is daily unveiling the mysteries with which life is enshrouded. One of the most recent discoveries that has added to our growing stock of general knowledge is due to the perfecting of a device for photographing under water by Mr. J. Ernest Williamson, who has applied his knowledge in a remarkable photograph, entitled "Wet Gold." This picture, which will be shown at the New Hefley Theatre for two days, beginning Wednesday, 12th reveals the actual struggle of men with the creatures of the sea. It was taken on the ocean floor off the Bahama Islands. The men are seen threading their way through the soft mud of the ocean bottom, in and out of beautiful coral and rock formations and avoiding the thousands of fish and other creatures that swim about them.

A Thrilling Adventure.

All the under-water photography in "Wet Gold," which is being released through the Goldwyn Distributing Corporation, forms part of a thrilling adventure story that begins on land, and involves a hunt for hidden treasure that a band of pirates has spirited away and buried in a cave in the bottom of the sea. To locate the treasure, a submarine is brought into the story, and the divers who go in search of the treasure use the under-sea boat as a rendezvous. They are seen leaving the submarine, fighting their way through the water, and digging up the hidden treasure.

Mr. Ralph Ince became so interested in Mr. Williamson's new idea, in motion picture photography that he not only agreed to direct "Wet Gold," but also to play the leading part. He is seen in many thrilling episodes that seem to defy the laws of the buoyancy of water. The leading feminine role is taken by the beautiful Aileen Burr. Others in the cast include Charles McNaughton and John Butler.

MRS. NANCY B. HARMON DIES.

Mrs. Nancy Bateman Harmon was born in Macon County, Georgia, on September 4th, 1830. She was married to John F. Harmon on January 16th, 1860, and died at Orion, Alabama, on May 21, 1921, at the age of 90 years, 9 months and 17 days.

She is survived by the following children: T. B. Harmon, of Troy; Mrs. Annie Harmon, of Orion; Mrs. T. L. McCullough, of Snowdown; Alonzo Harmon, of Orion, and C. E. Harmon, of Dothan.

She was preceded to the grave by her husband and seven children, three of whom died in infancy. The following reached the age of maturity: Robert L. Harmon, Mrs. Sid House, J. F. Harmon, Jr., and Miss Lena Harmon.

Mrs. Harmon was a member of the Missionary Baptist church at Orion for many years.

She is also survived by twenty-five grandchildren and eighteen great-grandchildren.

The funeral services were conducted at the Baptist church at Orion by Rev. V. G. Lowery, of Troy. The church was filled with friends and relatives.

Hymns used were "Asleep in Jesus," "Nearer My God to Thee," and "Shall We Gather at the River."

The following were the pall bearers: Fletcher Harmon, Fox Harmon, John William Harmon, Harmon Allison, Nat Miller and W. G. Chancey.

The deceased was the grandmother of Mr. Sid House's children of Milano.

THORNDALE FARMER UNDER $2,600 BOND

E. R. Branden, Williamson county farmer, faces charges of manufacturing having and possessing intoxicating liquor, having and possessing five stills and a large quantity of mash fit for distillation, according to papers on file with United States

Commissioner Roy A. Archer. Branden was released this morning on $2500 bond, it was announced by the Commissioner.

Branden was arrested Saturday morning by Prohibition Enforcement Officer Frank Hamer and a staff of aids following a raid on his farm five miles south of Thorndale. These officers found three more stills on another farm situated several miles north of Thorndale, in Milam county. Arrests in connection with the second raid have not been completed, it was stated this morning, but charges similar to those faced by Branden are to be filed against others.

Efforts to obtain information concerning an alleged roundup of automobiles on Rio Grande street Sunday afternoon on suspicion that they were transporting liquor proved fruitless this morning. Inquiry at police headquarters, sheriff's office, prohibition enforcement headquarters and the State Adjutant General's office brought the response that none of these officers had conducted the reported raid. United States Commissioner Roy Archer characterizes the report as a hoax.—Austin Statesman.

BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Last Saturday afternoon Master John Holland Wallace celebrated his seventh birthday by inviting twenty-five little folks in to enjoy it with him.

It was given on the beautiful lawn. They played all sorts of games under the shade of the large pecan trees and then went fishing in an improvised pond. The girls caught blue fish and the boys pink ones and inside the fish was a gift for each child.

The table which held the big birthday cake and candles was also in the yard and beautifully decorated with daisies. This cake was full of souvenirs, a whole round dozen, and it was hard to tell whether John, who received many gifts from the children, or the children carrying off so many trophies, was the happiest.

ANNOUNCEMENT PARTY.

Last Thursday morning Mrs. George A. Thomas and Miss Clara Thomas invited quite a number of Miss Decard Thomas' friends in for a game of "42."

The color scheme chosen was pink and white and the reception suite was beautifully decorated with pink and white roses.

Seven pink covered tables were arranged and the score cards featured pink roses.

After a number of interesting games were played the tables were joined together and covered with white luncheon cloths so all present were seated together. A delicious two-course luncheon was served consisting of chicken salad, heart sandwiches, olives, tomatoes, ice cream and angel food cake.

The heart sandwiches were tied with pink ribbon and to them was attached a heart-shaped card in pink and on this was written: "A secret we have to tell That soon you will hear wedding bells,

For June 22, they will ring, To Deckard and Tom wedded joys will bring."

After this the girls lingered until quite the high noon hour wishing Miss Deckard much joy and and happiness.

MRS. LAW HENDERSON AND MISS THOMAS HONORED.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. Law Henderson Sr., and her daughter, Mary Lake, entertained with a needle work party.

About fifty of the young and merry maids and matrons assembled in the spacious and beautifully decorated rooms at the Henderson home.

The morning was warm and delicious punch was served all the morning by little Misses Atkinson, Henderson and Flynn. Beautiful cloth was passed and the guests spent a social hour hemming cup towels and fashioning beautiful sachets.

During this time they were most delightfully entertained with piano solos by Miss Dickard and Ruth Coleman, songs by Mrs. Alex Triggs and Gladys Walker, a reading by Miss Minnie Wolf, and a whistling duet by Misses Minnie Wolf and Gladys Walker. Miss Dickard then played the wedding march and Mrs. Law Henderson led the bride-elect, Miss Dickard Thomas down the room and the two were presented with the cup towels and sachets.

Mrs. Henderson, assisted by her daughters, Miss Mary Lake, Mrs. Tom Jr., and Misses Ada and Winnie Henderson served a most delicious combination salad and ice course.

Similar Cases Being Published In Each Case.

The following case is but one of many occurring daily in Cameron. It is an easy matter to verify it. You cannot ask for better proof.

W. H. Ledbetter, horseshoer, 14th St., Cameron, says: "About four years ago, my back and kidneys were in bad shape. Everybody knows that horseshoeing is hard on the back and kidneys, owing to the position and strain across the kidneys when holding a horse's foot. My back and kidneys became weakened and caused me a great deal of trouble. My kidneys caused me a great deal of annoyance by the too frequent passages of the secretions, which were at times, painful and it seemed as if the muscles of my back were tied in a knot and when I stooped over, it was mighty painful to straighten up. It was when I first took Doan's Kidney Pills and they relieved me quickly and promptly."

ANT HORDES THREATEN TO DESTROY EXCHANGE.

Wichita, Kan., June 7.—Hordes of ants, driven upward from the earth through mud tubes, are threatening destruction to the $100,000 exchange building at the stock yards here. Oakum lumber stored under the building had been practically consumed and the ants have driven their way up along pipe line to the wood work of the west end of the structure which they have tunneled as far as the second floor.

Washington entomologists have identified the ravaging visitor as an Australian or South American ant which drives in armies, overwhelming any wood structure in its path. The cattle at the stock yards seem to be free of attacks.

An attempt to stop activities of the pests by placing of fly paper in their path was frustrated when the ants built a dirt bridge across the obstruction and continued their operations.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

There is as much comfort in good, pure food as in any other blessing with which man is endowed. Our bread is at the top of the perfect provender program. It is tasty and always uniform in quality. Ask for our bread by name.

DOWN IN THE HEEL

By MARIETTA A. BONNER.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

I do wish someone would be inspired to invent some sort of receptacle capable of containing an eleventh portion of Satan's kingdom. I do wish that someone else would herd together all these creatures who have found in their "bounden duty to tell some body something for their good." The last of all, what a blessing—what unbounded joy—would there be if those who were "told" could crowd aboard a vessel with "tellers."

Only yesterday I was perched on the lower rail of a fence in deep thought. You know, I am one of those people who just have to sit down when they think—and besides, ma had sent me two miles for milk, and I needed a rest. Before I had been there half a wink, along came one of the "in duty bound" talkers: "Why, child alive," she cackled, "ain't your nose full of enough freckles now 'thout settin' on fence rails in August heat? Besides, it 'pears to me as if women twenty years old might find something else to do 'stead of spending the afternoon by the road!" She stalked on, kicking up clouds of dust in a satisfied manner.

I made no answer. She had spoken the truth. Here I was—dumpy, a double chin—not enough hair, and that bit straw colored—too many freckles, and each one flaming red—twenty years old, and still known as "Miss Katie."

"Everything is lovely—lovely—lovely," I told myself—"except me."

Gathering up my palls, I gloomily began to trudge home.

When I sat down at the table I almost forgot my troubles.

"The whole world beautiful. I'm the ugliest thing in it," flashed through my mind.

Before my eyes came floating myriad faces—plump, thin, oval, round—all beautifully molded. There were round blue eyes, almost round black eyes, and brown eyes that sloped in slits. Girls, girls, and more girls. One dazzling creature bobbed up and down mockingly before me.

"She's the advertisement for that 'Get Pretty Chemical company,'" I cried aloud.

"What'd you say?" called ma from her room.

"Ma! Ma!" I shouted in reply. "Where's those magazines Aunt Hester bought at the county fair last summer?"

"What in the name of sense d'ye want of them this hot day? They're up in the trunk room."

At first thought I drew back. Articles are no easy places to search when the heat is 96 under the trees. Then it came to my mind all at once that I had heard of one famous European beauty whose complexion had excited universal comment.

On the inside cover of the magazine, glowing in softest rose shades and sparkling at me, was the plump face I'd been searching for.

"Praises be—'Get-Pretty Chemical company, 666 Sixth avenue, Tinseltown, N. Y. Treatment only $3, but will give you a complexion worth $300—"

"Is a mouse after you?" called ma as I passed her door. But I was too breathless to answer—my one aim was to reach the mail box by the gate.

Shivering with delight all night—but two weeks passed before a package came for me.

When I had torn off the paper, I found three boxes inside—one containing a green paste and marked "Hair"—of the remaining two, one had a pink salve for the "Skin" and the other a black lotion for "Eye-lashes."

I stood up on a chair, took down my mirror, stuck it up against the lamp and began to set out the boxes. Somehow or other one of them rolled and in snatching at it I struck the lamp. The shade tipped off and crashed to the ground. In a panic I blew out the lamp, and then my heart sank.

I had no other shade, and if I went down for another ma would have to come up and see how it all had happened. Feeling cautiously among the pieces of glass on the table, I picked up one box and sniffed at it.

"I'd better carry it to the window, thought I, but when I tried this, I found it too dark to distinguish the lettering.

"Must be for the hair," I decided, and sitting down began to massage it into my scalp.

The other two treatments I applied to my cheeks and eyes, then I invoked my guardian angel and lay me down to excited sleep. As soon as I had opened my eyes next morning I sat up.

"Let me get the mirror," was my first thought—thus slighting my guardian angel.

I reached one foot out and felt for my slippers. Then some one tapped at the door.

"Come," I called, and waited. The door opened a crack and Sarah Angin thrust in her head.

"S' only me, Katie! Your ma sent me!—Kate Sarah Chispeck! What on earth has happened to you? Your face is green and black! Mis' Chispeck!" she screamed down the stairs.

With sinking heart I reached for the mirror—and one look showed my face, puffed and pale green! I did not look at my hair, I just laid my head down on the bed and howled.

WHICH?

By DOROTHY I. DUFF.

(© 1921, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

We were gathered on the hotel piazza, four former classmates who had not met for a year. It was a glorious reunion, and of course each had a story to tell. Kitty is a teacher of languages. Nell is now Eleanor Marsh Whitney, authoress; Alice, the class beauty, is married; while I am a settlement worker.

"My story?" asked Nell, in answer to Kitty's question. "Well, yes, I have a story to tell, but it is about someone else."

"Let's hear it," we all cried, and so she began:

"When Billy Appleton struck New York he had with him a suitcase containing his clothes, $200 and a picture of Elsie Hill, in a silver frame."

"Billy was a designer of ability. He loved the work, much to the disappointment of his father, who thought the boy would quickly tire of art if left to himself, and would return home ready to enter business."

"Back in Portland, Conn., where Billy was born, Appleton & Co. was the leading dry goods store, and Mr. Appleton was Portland's most prominent citizen. Proud of the fact, Mr. Appleton had his mind all made up that his only son should follow in his footsteps. Billy, however, had other plans. He wanted to be something more than a big toad in a small puddle—he wanted to be famous. And so, with only $200 in his pocket and his father's anger on his head, he struck out for New York."

"Of course, he hated to leave Elsie, but a fellow had to have his chance in business before he could get married, anyway. Billy, with the confidence of youth, assured Elsie that he would soon make his fortune and then she could come to New York and they would live happily ever afterward."

"But Billy soon discovered that life in New York was very different from life in Portland. In Portland he lived in a big white house with a lawn in front; he had two horses and a little runabout; he had an adoring mother, whose whole time seemed to be taken up in doing things for Billy. In New York he lived in one small hall bedroom, without a cheerful thing in it except Elsie's pretty face. The elevated train rumbled by night and day and made him sick with all his might for Portland. And the landlady seemed to be ever present with her hand out to take some of Billy's precious cash."

"In Portland he had been the one and only designer, but here in New York! Well, here in New York everybody seemed to be a designer."

"At last, however, Billy found a job: not a very good one, but at least a job which would feed him and pay his room rent with a little to spare. He was set to work designing borders and figures which were to be used on the beautiful windows made by that firm for churches and public buildings."

"About this time the firm offered a prize to their employees for the best design for a window. Billy had many ideas, and he worked all his spare time on that design. He wrote to Elsie about it; all his work was for her. Every girl he saw he compared with her, much to the stranger's disparagement."

"And then he met Adele. It was quite unexpected, and Billy's heart thrilled as it had never thrilled before. Adele's eyes were as black as midnight, and she had straight black hair, quite a contrast to little golden-haired Elsie with the blue eyes. Adele was a wonderful girl. She liked to dance and Billy liked to dance, and it took all of his spare change to pay for the dinners and the theaters and the flowers which Adele demanded. Billy himself was in the seventh heaven of delight, and time flew for him much faster than ever before."

"At last came a day when Billy was awarded the prize for the window design. He was wild with joy, for with it he also received a substantial increase in salary. Now Elsie could come to the city, was his first thought, now they could be married and be forever happy."

"But did he want to marry Elsie? What of Adele? He loved Elsie, oh, yes, nobody could doubt that; but didn't he love Adele? Elsie seemed like a dream, while Adele was an ever-present reality."

"And then Billy Appleton had the hardest day of his life. He was at his wit's end. He sat down and looked at their pictures. When he looked at Elsie he was sure that he loved her and no one else; but when he looked at Adele he was not so sure. Would quiet little Elsie be happy in the noisy city? Would Adele be happy in quiet Portland?"

"About midnight Billy wrote a letter of proposal. Should he send it to Elsie? Or to Adele? Then slowly, slowly he slipped it into the envelope and just as slowly addressed it. He put on his hat and coat and went out. After a moment's thought he dropped it into the letter box. And then—"

Nell paused.

"But to whom did he address it, Nell, you didn't tell us?" broke in Alice.

"Well," said Nell, absently, in her sweet drawing voice, "that's just what I don't know myself. I've been working on that story for a month, and I just can't make up my mind whether to let Billy marry dear little Elsie and lead a safe and sane life, or enjoy the glamor of the red lights with Adele for the rest of his days."

"What would you do?"

DEEP OIL TEST STRIKES TROUBLE

BROKEN BITS IN BOULDER FORMATION GIVE MORE TROUBLE

That the life of an oil well driller is not a bed of roses is admitted by Driller Frank Bartless who is handling the work of the Bremond Ranch Syndicate deep test on the Shelby Phillips place on the Bremond Ranch three miles southeast of Thorndale.

The deep test crew has been busy the past two weeks changing broken bits, fishing broken pieces out of the bottom of the 1200 foot hole, casting off artesian water, and trying to keep the drill stem from doing a shimmy when it hits the boulders that abound along the level the drill is penetrating now.

Very little progress has been made during the past two weeks on account of the rocky formation which makes the work very tedious, stated Ralph Babcock today. "We are down too far now to even take a chance on junking this old hole and have to be very careful which means slow work. This boulder formation is ten times worse than straight solid rock as there is more danger of a small rock sliding the bit to one side and making a hole so crooked that casing could not be set which would mean starting a new hole all over again, and too, these rocks break off a side of the bit which makes the drillers life anything but happy."

him any good and he just kept going from bad to worse.

"I don't guess there ever was a case as stubborn as his and if there ever was a confirmed dyspeptic, he was one of them and I guess he would have been one yet if it hadn't been for this Tanlac.

"The first we hear of this medicine was when Father saw an advertisement in the papers from parties he knew in Tennessee, who were friends of his and he knew what they said about it was the truth so he got it right away and began taking it. Well, sir, it acted just like magic—everybody notices the change in Father—Why, he is just like a different man and sits down to the table and eats like a farm-hand. Only yesterday he ate pork and turnips for his dinner and ate so much we were actually afraid he was going to overdo the thing but he laughed and said nothing hurt him now and that he was hungry and expected to eat and make up for lost time.

"Now, when a medicine will do things like that I think people ought to know about it and I want to say right now that I would not give one bottle of Tanlac for all the other medicines and health resorts in the country put together."

"Tanlac is sold in Cameron by New Cameron Drug Co., in Rockdale by Baldrige Bros., in Milano by E. C. Smith and in Burlington by the New Drug Store. adv

EVERYBODY SEES A CHANGE IN FATHER

Grateful Son Says His Father Looks Like Different Man Since Taking Tanlac

"My Father has suffered from chronic stomach trouble for over twenty years and has paid out thousands of dollars for medicines and doctors," said G. W. Slayton, a well-known Cobb County farmer, living a short distance out of Atlanta, Ga.

"We tried nearly everything trying to cure him and he went off to the Springs, thinking maybe the water might help him but it just looked like nothing would reach his trouble. Then he tried dieting and lived on liquid food until he almost starved, but even that failed to

WHERE WASHINGTON WORSHIPPED

HISTORY shows that the plot of ground on which stands Christ church, in the quaint, old-fashioned town of Alexandria, Virginia, first settled about 1895, was acquired in 1794 for the sum of one penny.

Around this sacred relic of by-gone days perhaps revolves more patriotic sentiment than that which surrounds any other of the many old and historic churches in this nation. An iron fence, set upon an ancient brick wall, encloses a grassy plot which is dotted with many quaint grave stones and also contains the church itself.

Although certain interior changes and renewals necessarily have been made, the general appearance of the church is practically the same as in the days of old. The same chancel rail, communion table, reading desk and chairs and brass candle holders are in use, while among the relics in the vestry may be seen the first bible used—made in Scotland in 1776, and the long-handled purses in which the offerings of the parishioners were deposited.

It was to this church, both before and after the revolution as well as after retiring from the presidency, that General George Washington came from Mount Vernon, in his "coach and four", to worship. The pew occupied by the Washington family, as well as the one used by General Robert E. Lee, are maintained in exactly the same condition as when used by them.

PROCRASTINATOR

By ELIZABETH R. GREENE.

(© by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

They were a gay little company that descended the steps of Hill Crest Farm to the waiting hay rack, and for the twentieth time that morning Mariana wished she had been ready.

But it was always this way. Somehow Mariana could never manage to be quite on time, and had long ago been affectionately dubbed by her friends the "Procrastinator."

Nevertheless, Mariana was a general favorite, and it was with genuine regret that the little party of pleasure seekers set forth without her that bright morning.

"Couldn't you come later, Mariana?" coaxed Bettina, loitering behind the others.

Mariana shook her head. "I can't," she sighed. "I've got all my packing to do."

"Couldn't I help you tonight?" generously proffered Bettina.

Mariana dimpled. "Thanks, Betty," she smiled, "you're a dear; but I can't go, really."

"Oh, come along, Betty," called Polly from the hay rack. "She'll come at the eleventh hour, same's she always does!"

Slowly Mariana went back to the neglected packing. Tomorrow they were all going home. "All" meant Mariana's five girl friends, Miss Kent who chaperoned the little party, and Mariana.

Leaving her unfinished packing she donned the pretty white dress thrown over a chair. Her vivid imagination pictured the delighted surprise of her friends when she should join them and—yes, it must be admitted, the whole of the vision was glorified by the tremulous hope that she might see "him."

A radiant vision was Mariana that morning, and passersby turned to look admiringly at the trim, white-clad little figure tripping gaily along the dusty roadside.

But as the sun rose higher and the heat increased Mariana's enthusiasm waned with her lagging feet.

How beautiful it was out here though! Somewhere in the green branches overhead a bird carolled joyously and in the distance came faint sounds of the haymakers. Somewhere, too, in this enchanted land lived The Man.

Oh, it was shameful that she should think of him so! But since that morning when she had chanced to be at her window in the early dawn and caught a glimpse of him carrying a dew-wet burden of lettuce and cucumbers to the farmhouse door below she had been unable to put the strong, sunburned face and stalwart form quite out of mind.

And this was her last day of freedom. Her chance of knowing him ended today! Tomorrow meant noisy, smoky Brewster and—Aunt Amelia.

Mariana sighed dismally. However, being a cheery little person, her gloom soon vanished as she caught a glimpse of the big, ripe berries near by.

"Blueberries!" she exclaimed, rising and beginning to gather the tempting fruit. Presently a glance over the stone wall revealed more berries beyond in the pasture.

Laughing softly, Mariana scaled the wall with pretty grace.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Mariana, her eyes following wistfully the distant shadows of frost trees. If only she might rest in those cool woods awhile!

Warily she plodded on under the noonday sun, reaching at last the welcome shadows of the wood. Throwing herself down upon the sweet pine needles, she drew deep breaths of the pine-scented air. Presently her tired eyelids drooped lower and lower and she slept.

Mariana sat up and rubbed her eyes.

It was sunset. The prospect of night overtaking her in a strange wood was not at all pleasant; besides, what would Miss Kent think?

Mariana rose and hurriedly retraced her steps through the forest gloom. Suddenly she paused—terrified. Near by, dimly outlined in the gathering shadows, loomed the huge black body of an animal.

Breathlessly she stared back into the gleaming eyes regarding her. Then above the beating of her heart came the sound of a merry whistle from the pasture.

Sobbing with relief, Mariana fled toward the welcome tones. Hurrying feet crashed through the underbrush behind her, briars caught and scratched her, but she sped blindly on. When the hot, panting breaths were close beside her, a man's voice called suddenly, then—oblivion.

When Mariana opened her eyes she looked into the face of The Man.

"The bear, has—has he gone?" she stammered, attempting to rise.

The Man threw away the remaining water that had not been used on Mariana's head.

"You mean Rover, there, I reckon?" he smiled boyishly.

Her eyes followed his gesture. There on the ground beside her stretched a big, black dog!

"Oh!" gasped Mariana faintly. "I—I guess you'll think I'm a 'fraid-cat!" she smiled tremulously, the lovely color coming into her cheeks in her confusion.

But the man didn't tell her what he really thought until six months later. Then—well, it only concerned Mariana, anyway!

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES OF THE ROCKDALE SCHOOL

Commencement exercises of the Rockdale High School were held at the City Hall Auditorium Tuesday evening, and as is always the case in Rockdale the auditorium was crowded with the friends and relatives of the graduates. The program as printed in these columns last week was given, and diplomas were presented to the following list of graduates: Misses Grace Stribling, Inez Casey, Marjorie Bagley, Lottie Maie Phillips, Margaret Riddle, Marguerite Lanning, Maggie Blackburn; Messrs. Rex Steward and Charles Young. Miss Phillips was Salutatorian and Miss Stribling Valedictorian. Miss Blackburn read the "Class Prophecy," and Miss Casey "Class Will."

A feature of the exercises, and one not heretofore seen in Rockdale, was the presentation of the robe to the Junior Class by the Seniors. This ceremony was drawn from the biblical story of Elijah and Elisha, and was a pretty feature. Miss Marjorie Bagley, wearing the robe, and Mr. Rev. Steward, of the Seniors, appeared from one side of the stage, while Miss Clara Cooke and Mr. Ewell Gunn representing the Juniors, came from the opposite side. Miss Bagley made an interesting little address, telling the story of the origin of the custom. Mr. Steward then relieved her of the robe and passed it to Miss Cooke, who placed it upon her fellowstudent, Mr. Gunn. Mr. Gunn then made a neat little speech of acceptance. The robe was of black and bore across the front in gold letters "Class of 1921." It is to be handed down from class to class and the ceremony will be a feature of the exercises from year to year. The entire graduating class this year wore regulation graduates' caps and gowns of a gray texture, and presented a splendid appearance.

Hon. W. G. Gillis of Cameron, delivered the Commencement Address in his usual masterly style. The diplomas were presented to the graduates by Rev. W. E. Copeland. It was particularly fitting that he should perform this duty. Bro. Copeland was a member of the original Board of Trustees of the Rockdale Public School, and served on the Board for many years, always taking an active interest in school affairs. On this occasion he had the pleasure of presenting a diploma to his granddaughter—Miss Stribling, who was the honor graduate this year.

Hon. H. C. Meyer presented the scholarships, and also presented to members of the Seventh Grade certificates of graduation in to the high school.

The Baccalaureate—Sermon was preached at the Presbyterian church Sunday night, by Dr. Frank Jewett, of State University Bible Chair. A special musical program was rendered and a large congregation was present.—Rockdale Reporter.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take 90¢ per bottle.

It is a powerful and scientific combination of sulphur and other healing agents for the relief and cure of diseases of the skin. It is especially effective in the ITCHING VARIETIES; giving instant relief from the itching and smarting sensations and by its germ-destroying properties it exterminates the microbe which is the cause of the eruption, thus curing the disease completely.

Littell's Liquid Sulphur Compound is used in all cases of Eczema, Tetter, Barber's Itch, Psoriasis, Herpes, Rash, Oak and Ivy Poisoning, also for relieving the annoyance caused by chiggers and mosquito bites.

In the treatment of ECZEMA—the most painful and obstinate of all skin diseases—it is one of the most successful remedies known.

TO DISTRIBUTE VICTORY MEDALS TO EX-SOLDIERS

BIG DRIVE CONDUCTED BY WAR DEPARTMENT TO FURNISH
MEDALS TO EX-SOLDIERS

Austin, Texas, June 5, 1921.
Editor Cameron Herald,
Dear Sir:

In the interest of the intensive drive now being conducted by the War Department to distribute Victory Medals to ex-soldiers it will be greatly appreciated if you will publish the following.

"All ex-service men have probably heard of the Victory Medal. Every man who served honorably in the U. S. Army at any time between April 6, 1917 and November 1918, and nearest of kin of those men who were killed or who died while in the service between those dates, is entitled to the Victory Medal.

This is a bronze medal, pendant from a Rainbow Ribbon with a miniature status copied from the Winged Victory of Samothrace on the side, and the inscription, "The Great War for Civilization" together with the names of the various allied nations. For those men who served in France but who did not participate in any battles, there is a clasp on the ribbon with the word "France." There is also a clasp given for each major operation, such as "Aisne-Marne," "St. Mihiel," "Meuse-Argonne," "Defensive Sector," etc.

All that is necessary for an ex-service man to secure his Victory medal is to mail his discharge certificate, or a true copy thereof, certified to before a Notary Public or Commander of any American Legion Post, to Victory Medal Office, Austin, Texas. Application will be completed at that office. The Victory Medal will be mailed to the applicant within ten days to two weeks after application is submitted. Relatives of deceased soldiers should merely write to the Victory Medal office, stating the name and organization at the time of his death, and serial number if known. Men should not hesitate about mailing in their discharge certificates, as these will be returned to

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.

them by registered mail, on the day following that on which they are received. Utmost care will be taken in handling them.

All ex-service men, and relatives of deceased ex-service men are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to obtain the medal to which they are entitled, with the least possible delay.

EDGAR L. DUNSWORTH,
Army Field Clerk.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value.

GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS
CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

The present is a critical point in the world's history. There are wars, and rumors of wars. Europe is dying, and her infection threatens Germany and central Europe and contains an awful menace even to England and France, possibly to us. The future looks black and pessimists go around predicting dire things to come. But amid this gloom, there is a light, which bids fair to turn night into day, calamity into fortune. America is the light, and it is the future of America that shall determine the future of the world. Further than this, it is the future citizenship of America that shall determine America's fate, and it is you, my friends, you and I and our posterity that shall comprise that citizenship. Upon us rests the responsibility of making this old world a better place in which to live, and the personal conduct of each one of us shall determine whether we fail or make good under the responsibility.

In the struggle for the betterment of the individual, and consequently of the world, there is no reason what every for anyone to fail under his responsibility. There must be just three things for the accomplishment of anything truly great. First there must be the dream or the ideal, for nothing truly great is every accomplished without an ideal. It must shine before the ambitious man as the star before those old mariners of old, leading them on to the land of their dreams. Someone has said that "The dreamer lives forever, and the toiler dies in a day," but this statement must be tempered for the second element of real success must be considered.

Besides the dream, there must be the determination and willingness to work toward the mark ambition has set. There must be the grit, the determination, the "stick-to-itiveness," without which no dream can be of avail. There will be obstacles, but these will not deter the worthy. The mountaineer does not hesitate before the boulder, or the precipice, neither does the seaman shrink before the cross-current. It is only the weak and the unfit that turn back, and in the survival of the fittest, these will soon die out, and posterity shall be composed only of that glorious mountaineers, those hardy seamen, who have braved the heights, and who have faced the storm, and on whose brow glows the glory of achievement.

Then after willingness and determination to reach the goal, there must come the last element—the most important of all. This must be the ability to toil and work toward the top. In this last, there are many sub-elements, physical fitness, moral fitness, and educational and mental fitness. Of these requisites, perhaps the most important, and easily the hardest to obtain. At the present time there is an excellent system of common school education in America, which bids fair to become the best in the world. There is no need for me to dwell here upon this system of common school education, as most Americans are already sufficiently acquainted with it. What America needs and needs badly is more of higher education for her young men and young women. In itself, education is more of a preparation to accomplish things than an accomplishment in itself, and it is the duty of every man of today, especially every young man, to prepare himself as much as in his power lies to take a high place in that future citizenship which is to save America, and the world from the red flag and bolshevism.

Aside from the education of the American citizenship, the education of the entire world is coming to depend more and more upon America. Before the war Germany was the center for the world's higher education. Now that Germany has fallen, and the other great centers of the world are desolated, America is the only logical place toward which the center of higher education can move. Moreover the respect and trust with which the peoples of the earth have come to look upon America makes this migration all the more probable. In consequence, America holds in her hand the education of not only her own future citizens, but those of the world. What will she do? Hers is a great privilege, but a still greater responsibility. Will she abuse her trust?

America will not fail under her responsibility. Even at the present time she is awaking to a fuller realization of what impends and to the glorious opportunities opening to her. Already she is taking magnificent strides to cope with her new problems. State schools are being increased in scope and extended in size. On every hand, private schools of every description are springing up. Above all, at the present moment there is a universal movement in the churches toward Christian education.

When Germany was the educational center of the world, she educated men well, but educated them as agnostics or unbelievers. In consequence Germans came to look to the German state before looking to God, and Germany fell. Now it is America's destiny to right the wrong Germany has perpetrated. It is her privilege to educate the future citizens of the world into a reverence for God, and with this outlook, there is no wonder that the future of the world is not so black as pessimists love to paint it.

And as the gaze of the mental wanderer wanders over these facts, it is little wonder that his doubt is dispelled, that his fears are banished, and that he looks forward with a new confidence and optimism toward the reality of that ideal of "Peace on earth, good will toward men."

Seniors:

For four long years we have been to complete our education so far as possible within high school walls. Let us not cease here, but surge forward, sweeping down every barrier, like the ever-restless waves on the turbulent sea. Let us go onward to the pinnacles of good citizenship, and when we have reached the heights, we may each catch a glimpse of the great beyond, which was Moses' dying solace.

On the restless sea of life, we are the ships that pass in the night. The see the lights and the cheer upon others' deck. They hear the brilliant music, feel the warmth, exchange a cheery greeting and then fade away, born on the to lands unknown, leaving the place of passing darker and sad. This spot on the horizon, is our place of passing. We go to lands unknown, borne apart by the restless tide. Whether even again there will be a meeting, who knows? Or if ever again there shall come such a moment, who of us shall have passed into the great beyond? Only He that is divine knows. Only He who is divine knows.

And now, Seniors, on what is perhaps our last meeting, let us resolve to face the world bravely. Let us live such clean, exemplary, honorable lives, that when, all nature may stand up over any one of us and say "This was a man" and men may say that this was man who Never turned his back, but marched breast forward, Never doubted clouds would break, Never dreamed, though right were worsted, wrong would triumph, Held we fall to rise, are baffled to fight better, Sleep to wake."

And should posterity touch our brows with her magic wand, let us use our wealth wisely, and again learn to sing with the poet,

"But I need, now, as then,

Thee God, who mouldest men.

And since, not even when the whirl was worst,

Did I, to the wheel of life, with shapes and colors rife

Bound dizzily, mistake my end, to make thy thirst.

"So take and use thy work,

Amend at flaws may lurk,

What strain o' the stuff, what warping past the aim,

My times be in thy hand.

Perfect the cup as planned.

Let age apprise of youth, and age complete the same."

Then, Seniors, let us resolve to make many opportunities for ourselves and to follow them up diligently, to set our ideals high, and to climb toward them with all our might, and then, when the impenetrable darkness of that "Bourne from which no traveller returns" begins to overshadow and choke out that little plant of ours called life, we may bravely face that unexplored world, not as "The galley slave scourged to his dungeon, but as one who wraps the draperies of his couch about him, and lies down to pleasant dreams.

And then, when we come into the presence of Him who is all powerful we shall hear the "Well done, thou good and faithful servant" and not our condemnation to the tares.

And then, when we shall have left this old world far in the dim obscurity of the past, and it shall have merged into the still dim oblivion of the future, men shall read perchance of even us on the pages of history and literature, and go forth inspired to greater deeds.

Our bodies shall be dust, but our spirit shall be alive, and we shall have left some of those immortal footprints on the sands of time, which Longfellow has so well sung:

"Footprints that perhaps another, Sailing o'er life's solemn main, A forlorn and shipwrecked brother, Seeing shall take heart again."

Then, Seniors, let us be "up and doing." Let us learn to be such good citizens of tomorrow, and learn to teach men our brothers meant the workers to be such good citizens, that the time of which the prophet Tennyson dreamed will come in the not so far distant future,

"Til the war-drum throbbed no longer and the battle flags were furled,

In the parliament of man, the federation of the world."

MAY MORNING

By MOLLIE MATHER.

(© 1921, Western Newspaper Union.)

John Towne drove through the village on his quickest route to the city beyond. The ride was longer than he had anticipated, in his wish to avoid close trains, and the spring time vista of field and meadow, brought from him no conscious admiration. Above all things, was John practical, and this journey but a necessary factor in a necessary arrangement of his life's future plan. Jeremy Dawn, the successful president of the great company in which John Towne himself had made his way, was dead. Jeremy Dawn had died several months ago; but John, installed as succeeding president, had been too busy to seek the carrying out of the plan which his superior unfolded to him on his sick bed.

The capable junior member of the business concern was well aware of the need of an efficient mistress in his home. The pretentious building that John had fitted for a dwelling, was to him merely a well ordered institution. Upon several past occasions where he had been a guest at Mr. Dawn's summer home, John had recognized the value of a woman's hospitality and home management. The poise and intelligence of Mrs. Jeremy Dawn charmed him. John Towne pictured his future wife as just such a woman, and despaired of finding this paragon of choice. Now, the wife that Jeremy Dawn had named for him was no other than his own daughter, the daughter of this perfect woman. The girl had been at college, John remembered, during his visits to the Dawn's home, but he had absolute confidence in his shrewd old friend's judgment.

As John Towne reached the last hill he decided, wearied of rough roads, to leave his car in town and continue the journey by rail. He drove up to a girl seated on a stile and asked the way to the village station.

"I have," John told her crossly, "just ten minutes to make my train."

"That," pleasantly remarked the girl in the red sweater, "is nothing in my young life."

John stared, then he glared; which appeared to the pretty creature interesting but not disturbing. She continued the hum of her song as she started down hill. All at once, John realized amazingly the beauty of the morning, that pink flowers peeped between green leaves—that the girl's cheeks were rose pink too, that violets bordered the country road, that the girl's eyes were as deeply blue. She glanced back over her shoulder presently, and smiled. John found himself giving an answering grin. It was very, very strange—it was undignified—but he wanted more than anything to hear her saucy speech again.

"As I am going your way," he confessed, "I might as well take you with me."

The girl tilted her chin. "Nobody asked you too, sir," she quoted. With an impulse inexplicable, he sought to detain her.

"You are on your way to the village?" he persisted.

The girl looked demurely down at her pail.

"I was about to carry the milk into the farm house," she said.

As he lingered a shrill whistle sounded, the girl turned to him.

"Your train has gone," she announced.

John Towne's impatience had vanished.

"There will be no other going out until tonight," he stated calmly.

"I wonder if I could persuade them to give me luncheon at your farm house? I am beastly hungry."

The girl nodded in friendly fashion. "It's a country appetite," she explained, "I will fetch you sandwiches."

She sat beside him as he ate.

"I would like," said John Towne, "to know your name." The girl laughed, turning her eyes upon him.

"I," she replied, "am just May Morning."

"I thought you were," John agreed, "when I first looked at you, all rose, and violet, and laughing sunshine."

She frowned.

"When I saw you," she retorted, "I thought first of your distressing humor."

"I was starting on a serious errand," excused John Towne.

"I know," the girl said unexpectedly, "you were going to see Mary Dawn, to ask her to be your wife. I will tell you something; you may save the trouble. Mary Dawn is not in the city, for she ran away to avoid refusing. She did not care to be handed over like a package, you see, and neither would you care for her. She is most unlike her mother, whom you admire, and she has old-fashioned ideas about love. So you'd better turn your automobile around, John Towne, and be on your way home."

"You know my name?" the man asked, wondering, "you know all this—how?"

The girl smiled saucily.

"Your photos are all over my father's house," she explained. "While I, myself, am Mary Dawn: My friends changed that name to 'May Morning'."

Suddenly, serious, she leaned closer. "I came to the farmhouse to purposely waylay you," she confessed, "to show you in time, your mistake."

"And I," John Towne answered gravely, "admit no mistake. In fact, my purpose—grows. For I find, May Morning, that I, too, have a certain old-fashioned idea—about love."

IT EFFECTS "EVERY MOTHER'S SON OF US".

The settling and readjusting of conditions, commercial and otherwise, to a pre-war basis affects "every mother's son of us," regardless of place or position. How has it or how is it going to affect you? You are the one most interested in your future and you must answer the question, to yourself at least. Have you thought,— have you planned? If not isn't this the best time in the world to start thinking and planning?

Isn't it always the trained men and women that win? It is so in every walk of life. Trained men and women won the war and it didn't take them long to train, did it? Trained men and women win in business, and it will not take you long to train if you attend the right school.

No Worms in a Healthy Child

All children troubled with Worms have an unhealthy color, which indicates poor blood, and as a rule, there is more or less stomach disturbance. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC given regularly for two or three weeks will enrich the blood, improve the digestion, and act as a General Strengthening Tonic to the whole system. Nature will then throw off or dispel the worms, and the Child will be in perfect health. Pleasant to take. 75c per bottle.

We are proud of the confidence doctors, druggists and the public have in 666 Chill and Fever Tonic. 2tf

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and for years it was supposed to be incurable. Doctors prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease, greatly influenced by constitutional conditions and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Medicine, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is a constitutional remedy, is taken internally and acts thru the Blood on the Mucous Surfaces of the System. One Hundred Dollars reward is offered for any case that Hall's Catarrh Medicine fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio. Sold by Druggists, 7c. Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

Hot Water Each Morning Puts Roses in Your Cheeks

To look one's best and feel one's best, to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of incombustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary tract, before putting more food into the stomach.

Girls and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, also those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphated hot water drinking and are assured of very pronounced results in one or two weeks.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs. We must always consider that internal sanitation is vastly more important than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, while the bowel pores do.

Women who desire to enhance the beauty of their complexion should just try this for a week and notice results.

NEWS FROM SHARP COMMUNITY

Edited by Mrs. W. H. Lyon

June 6th.—This place was visited by a warm wave which lasted four or five days, followed by a few showers and some cloudy weather, which has helped some, at least by way of encouragement, since the drouth is probably broken. Corn is needing rain badly and unless we get it soon the old corn will fall short.

Will McQueen was unfortunate enough one day last week to suffer a broken arm the usual way, cranking a Ford. While suffering considerably he is doing nicely.

Mrs. Tom Jackson and little son, Francis of Brownwood, are here on a visit to her sister, Mrs. Frank Craben.

Miss Naomi Criswell was here from Buckholts Sunday to mingle with her numerous friends.

Dr. and Mrs. Lyon, Hal and Clifford, Lonzora and Ravenelle Raby were among those who attended the Commencement exercises in Cameron last Tuesday night.

Lee Howell and Herman Lester were Hal Lyon's guests the last week end.

Miss Eleanor Massey arrived home Sunday afternoon from Alpine where she attended the Normal, she being a member of the graduating class, enjoying the distinction of having been one of the first class to graduate from that school.

Miss Erin Massey leaves Tuesday for Belton where she will be a student at Baylor College for the coming summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Lyon returned Monday from San Marcos, after attending the S. W. T. N. for the past two terms. They will spend the summer here, after which they go to Edinburgh. He has a position as principal of the Grammar School and she to teach in the grades.

At a meeting of the School Board of this place recently the following teachers were re-elected: Miss Naomi Criswell, Miss Lavinia Lyle and Mrs. W. H. Lyon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. H. Leffere are rejoicing over the arrival of a fine baby girl, who tips the scales at ten pounds. She is a very healthy little lady and bids fair to bring a lot of sunshine into this heretofore childless home.

Sharp has a ball team of no mean ability. They went to Hearne the first of the week and played a game which was said to be one of the best of the season. Scores were 4 to 1 in favor of Sharp. Another game was played Sunday afternoon between Buckholts and Sharp, but was rather a slow one, Sharp winning by 7 to 1. An unfortunate incident during the game was a bad knife play made by one of the Buckholts crowd, not a player, however. We regret this affair very much as Sharp enjoys the distinction of having always been a peace loving and law abiding little village and the parties engaged were simply doing their duty. No doubt the best citizens of Buckholts regret the incident.

Mr. Cochran, an oil man from Waco, was down here a few nays ago looking after his business.

Misses Lois and Dot Harris of Tracy were Miss Lonzora Raby's house guests the past week end.

Miss Irma Harris spent several days in Rockdale with her sister, Mrs. Robert Simms.

Miss Glenna Spiegel is in Thorndale visiting her little friend, Helen Terry.

Mr. Ramsey of Bartlett was here on business a few days ago.

Our Junior boys played the Valley ball tam on this infield last Saturday and suffered a defeat, score 7 to 8.

Nick McBurnet and family spent several days visiting relatives below Rockdale recently.

Bogs Bolton came near losing his life by drowning one night last week in an attempt to swim across Little River. He happened to get in a swift current and but for the timely assistance of friends would have drowned.

Branchville

Mrs. J. A. Smith is spending a week with relatives in Caldwell.

Mrs. E. Arrington was called to Del Rio, Texas to her brother's bedside. He has been seriously injured in an automobile accident.

Mrs. L. O. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Porter spent Sunday at Heidenheimer with relatives.

Buren Porter and Jim Harlan visited Maysfield Sunday.

Mr. Steger, who is suffering from a broken limb, was taken to the Cameron Sanitarium Sunday where he can have the best of care. Mr. Steger is one of the best loved citizens and everyone wishes for him a speedy recovery.

Miss Ena Steger from El Paso is visiting relatives in this community.

Master Smith Abner Merceh from Chapel Hill, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Smith for a few days.

Dr. J. Z. Young and family from Buckholts, visited Mrs. Young's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maj. Looney Sunday.

Mrs. V. H. Bryan and children spent Tuesday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Archie Peel and family.

LIGGETT OF THE ARGONNE.

Secretary of War Weeks is right in urging that Maj. Gen. Liggett, just retired from the army, should have the rank of lieutenant general. He should have been given that permanent rank as a nation's tribute to the man who commanded the more than 1,000,000 Americans in the Argonne. We have had as many as 80 major generals at one time, but we had only one First army. We heard little of the individual leaders in the war, but whenever anyone speaks of the part played by American soldiers, he names Chateau-Thierry and the Argonne wood. In the Argonne, the First army undertook the greatest military enterprise ever carried on by Americans, and pushed it through to triumph, says Milwaukee Journal. And there cluster more thickly than anywhere else the white crosses that mark the resting places of our dead. The man for whom Secretary Weeks asks the little recognition that he is named lieutenant general is he whom future generations are to know as Hunter Liggett of the Argonne.

Business is the oldest of professions, and if it had a code of ethics it would be the most useful profession practiced by man. It serves humanity at more points and is more vitally connected with all human interests than any other. If a man is honest elsewhere, but in business, what does his honesty count for? If a man is capable elsewhere, but a dunce in business, how incapable he really is! Business is queen of the sciences, employing and encouraging them all; a field for the employment of all virtues that man can exhibit; the one profession capable of a dignified and expansive oversight and patronage of all the others. Where it fails beneath this estimate, the lack is in ethical pride, says Dearborn Independent. Business can best be controlled from the motive within.

EIGHT STILL HAVE BEEN CAPTUREDMILAM AND WILLIAMSON COUNTIES FIGURE PROMINENTLY IN THE BIG RAIDS

Austin, Texas, May 29.—Eight whiskey stills of large capacities were captured and several Williamson and Milam county farmers are under arrest as a result of raids conducted on two farms near Thorndale Saturday morning by Prohibition Enforcement Officers Frank Hamer and Coley White and four Texas Rangers. Additional arrests in connection with the raids are anticipated. One of the alleged moonshiners is in the Travis county jail where he was placed Saturday afternoon, while others are being held in Williamson county jails.

In addition to the eight stills great quantities of corn whiskey, sugar and mash were found, indicating the still had been in operation for some time.

Three of the stills were found in a barn on a farm fourteen miles north of Thorndale while the other five stills were located in a barn on a farm four miles south of this town in Williamson county. Thorndale is situated in the western portion of Milam county near the Williamson-Milam county line. That the officers conducting the raid apparently had good information to work on is evidenced by the fact that a number of warrants having a bearing on Saturday morning's raid were issued several days ago by United States Commissioner Roy C. Archer.—Thorndale Champion.

SWAT THE FLY.

The deadliest living thing which carries disease lives in your home and eats your own food—the house fly.

Probably the fly has been responsible for the killing of more people than all the wars of the world, and is more dangerous than any known single disease, because the fly is almost an exclusive carrier of a great many diseases. Living on filth the fly comes to your home and table filth covered to spread the germs of disease. The result is an appalling number of deaths which may be charged up directly to the fly. A single fly may kill your baby, or your husband, or your wife, or you.

This is the time of year when the fly puts in his appearance and now is the time that the community should be organized to drive out as far as possible and keep him. A safer and healthier town or city will result.

If the fly were many times larger he would be hunted with guns as any other dangerous beast. Life size he does not appear so deadly as he really is.

Get rid of oven dumping grounds in the city.

See that vacant lots are kept cut down and free from weeds.

Do not allow garbage to be stored away that will make it accessible to the fly.

Keep your houses well screened.

Use the fly swatter and use it enough to keep the home free from those flies that get in despite screens.

Keep meat and other food in the home and the store protected with screening so that flies cannot light on it.

Watch your sewerage so that there is no open drainage. Keep barns and outhouses cleaned and frequently disinfected.

Cooperate with the rest of your neighbors in fighting the fly menace.

It is as necessary to do these things for the safety of your baby and the health of the community as it is to keep dangerous, unlabeled poison out of reach.

BAPTISTS COLLECT $25,000,000 CASH

REDEMPTION OF PLEDGES ENCOURAGING—SOUTHWIDE PROGRAM IS LAUNCHED.

COMPLETE GREATEST YEAR

Reports to Southern Baptist Convention at Chattanooga Show Marked Progress Along Every Line of Organized Work.

DR. J. H. RUSHBROOKE
Baptist Commissioner for Europe.

Collections in cash totaling $25,103,424.64 have been made for general causes fostered by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign since the campaign was launched in 1919, according to a report to the Southern Baptist Convention, which has just adjourned its Chattanooga session, by Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the campaign, and chairman of the Conservation Commission. The fact that $12,924,943.60 of this amount was collected during the past year, under the most depressing conditions known in years, is very encouraging to the denominational leaders, they say.

Will Seek the Unsaved.

Feeling the need of conserving the spiritual interests of the people as well as the financial aspects of the campaign, the convention asked the Conservation Commission to seek to enlist, through the state and associational organizations, all the 27,000 local Baptist churches in the South in a larger evangelistic effort during the next twelve months, the aim being to induce as many individual members of the churches as possible to win at least one soul to Christ during the new year. Reports to the convention showed that there were 173,595 persons received into the local Baptist churches by baptism during the past year, and a much larger number will be sought during the year ahead.

Would Evangelize Europe.

One of the interesting actions of the convention was the decision to back up fully the Foreign Mission Board in its program for the evangelization of the new European territory of Spain, Jugo-Slavia, Hungary, Roumania, the Ukraine and Southern Russia. Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, of London, Baptist Commissioner for Europe, addressed the convention, telling how he had distributed the relief funds contributed by Baptists for the needy families of those countries and how the giving of this relief had opened wide the door of missionary opportunity.

Work on the older foreign fields during the past year was unusually successful, the board reporting receipts of $2,404,988 for its missionary operations and $278,000 for relief work, as well as $100,000 worth of clothing; 6,998 baptisms on the foreign fields; 187 of the 611 churches self-supporting, with a total of 405 foreign missionaries and 978 native workers employed.

Home Mission Board Active.

The Home Mission Board reported 77,072 additions to the churches through its instrumentalities, church extension operations of $1,248,000, and 298 patients treated at the Tubercular Sanatorium at El Paso.

During the year the receipts of the Sunday School Board reached $1,147,721.73, and the board turned back into general work of the denomination the sum of $189,000.

Although only three years of age, the Relief and Annuity Board, which seeks to supply the needs of aged, dependent ministers and their families, has doubled the number of beneficiaries receiving aid from the denomination as well as the amount of relief given. It now has permanent resources in excess of $900,000.

There are 119 Baptist educational institutions in the South, with a total enrollment of 40,000 pupils, the report of the Education Board showed, and 2,185 of these pupils are preparing for special Christian service, such as the ministry, missionary and other special religious work.

The Woman's Missionary Union, representing the organized women of the South, reports a total of 19,485 organized societies of women and young people, while the cash contributions by the women to the various causes fostered by the denomination during the year amounted to $3,115,437.

SAN GABRIEL GOSSIP By Mrs. J. S. Woody

June 6th. Since last writing our community has been visited by rain. Portions received an abundance, others were meted a light surface rain enough to liven up our gardens, in all. Each amount was exceedingly welcome.

A most noticeable feature during the night of this rain was the nearness of the vicious lightning, that gave its illuminating power supplied in a reddish lustre. This is verified by the view of cotton killed in spots in fields and occasionally trees split or broken.

Mrs. Jim Adams of Thordale was a week-end visitor in the home of relatives on the Gabriel this week.

Hayden Perry and family of Temple were guests of his sister here, Mrs. Edna Felton, Saturday and Sunday.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and thus the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about a dozen of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending urinary and bladder disorders. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, and nobody can make a mistake by taking a little occasionally to keep the kidneys clean and active.
